RECORD IN SHIP BUILDING

Report Shows Forty-Seven Steel Cargo Carriers Sent Down Ways Up to August 5.

Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, August 10.—A Republican attempt to force the House to recess for the remainder of the summer, despite the high cost of living crisis and President Wilson's recommendations for relief, was successfully blocked by Democratic Leader Champ Clark. The movement to adjourn was header by former Republican Leader James R. Mann, of Illinois.

Mr. Mann's contention was that it was unnecessary for the House to remain in session during the hot weather. He insisted that the members would be in a condition to do more effective work after having a rest for their bodies and souls."

Former Speaker Clark immediately took issue with the Illinois member, instead of thinking of a recess, he declared, it was his purpose to telegraph every absent Democratic member to return at once so that the President's program may be taken up without delay. (Hy Universa! Service.)

RANTZAU BELIEVES GERMANS

Declarea Weakening of His People Was Responsible for Drastic Clauses.

BERLIN, August 10 .- "If the German people had been united and firm, and the government and nation had stood pat on the refusal to sign the peace the government and nation had stood pat on the refusal to sign the peace terms, the allies would have made substantial concessions," writes Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau in the Berlinger Tageblatt.

The count, who appeared as the head of the original peace mission to Versailles, asserts that in the beginning of June there was every prospect of setting the allies and America to modify the treaty so as to confine it within the limits that he set in his speech at the ceremony a Versailles when he treaty was handed to him, but that as soon as German public opinion showed signs of veering toward acceptance, the allies, seeing Germany way weakening resolved to "go through with the terms."

The modifications obtained he characterizes as insignificant. From the moment the German government and public showed weakness, he says, his work at Versailles was doomled. He also says it was a bud tartical mistake on the part of President Ebert and exchancellor Schiedemann to proclaim from the housetops that Germany would "never, never sign" and to raise the alternative of "acceptance or rejection."

His policy was, he says, to exert might and main tolget the allies to negotiate, and if "the people at home had not spoiled the plans he would have been successful."

By the Use of the Popular BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment.

Women everywhere want to look

Women everywhere want to look well. The savage maiden tattoes her skin, fixes rings in her nose, while the example of present day beauty in a civilized woman is a soft, velvety skin and a radiant complexion.

To attain a beautiful skin, sticky, greasy face creams, lotions, powders or rouge should not be used. Such cosmetics only serve to temporarily hide or mask the unsightly skin.

You can remove pimples, insect bites, freckles, tan, sunburn and make your dark, sallow, muddy complexion white, smooth and soft by the use of the Black and White Beauty Treatment, which consists of Ointment and Soap. The Ointment is used at night—washed off the next morning. It is different from cosmetics because it takes off or removes skin blemishes—does not cover or hide them.

Both Black and White Ointment and Soap can be bought at all good drug stores for 25c a package, or the manufacturers will send them direct postpaid on receipt of price.

Free sample and literature can be had if you will cilp and mail this to Black and White, Box 913 Memphis, Tenn.

What Kind of Quinine Do You Take?

The Quinine used in Grove's Tasteless chill Tenic possesses more Tonic and Strength-Building Cuclities than ordinary Quinine.

All Quinine is derived from Cinchona Bark or what is generally known as Peruvian Bark. There are two kinds of Cinchona or Peruvian Bark. The yellow bark and the red bark. The ordinary quinine which is used by physicians and used in the home is made from the yellow Peruvian Early.

Some 35 years ago, we discovered that the quinine obtained from red Cinchona Bark or red Peruvian Bark contained more tonic and strength-building properties than the quinine obtained from the yellow Peruvian Bark; also that the quinine obtained from the red Peruvian Bark does not cause nervousness or ringing in the head or disturb the stomach like the ordinary quinine obtained from the yellow bark, making it especially adapted to children and delicate adults who cannot retain anything of a nauseating

The quinine obtained from the red bark is very bitter, but by a special process of our own, we have rendered it unsoluble in syrup and, therefore, practically tasteless as is shown in Grove's Tasteless chill Toris.

What Kind of Iron Do You Take?

The Iron used in Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is Specially Treated and does not discolor the Teeth or Injure the Ename! It is not in liquid form, but is simply suspended in Syrup and does not dissolve or become a liquid until it is dissolved by the stornach. Take a look at Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic before you shake the bottle and you will see that all the Iron has settled at the bottom and the Quinine is at the top. If the ordinary Quinine and the ordinary Iron were placed in Syrup, they would dissolve and mix with the Syrup, but in Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic you can see both the Quinine and Iron undissolved.

The Quinine and Iron used in Grove's Tasteless chill Tonis and specially prepared in order to make a tonic in a highly concentrated form which at the same time will be pleasant to take.

Your system needs Quinine to Purify the Blood and Iron to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of Grove's Tasteless chill Tenie has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes Your neighbors who have used Grove's Tasteless chill : ento will be glad to tell you just how much they value it as a General

Strengthening Tonic. Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic
